

Jackie Green, Audio Technica Vice President of Research and Development, and Ed Borsuk, Engineering Academy instructor, celebrate award recipients.

Collin Whitely, Woodridge, Jade Reese, Grace Phillips, Stephen Morris, all of SMFHS, and Shadoe Beatty, Tallmadge, pictured left to right, were named Audio Technica Distinguished Students during the Engineering Academy's annual Celebrate Success event. Requirements for the award are a 3.5 GPA and 95% attendance.

Phil Kaderle

In 2015, Athletic Health Care and Fitness student Phil Kaderle, Roosevelt, attended the National Youth Leadership Forum: Medicine at Babson College in Massachusetts. As part of the experience, Phil observed a knee surgery and also talked with a number of physicians with different specialties.

Five Stow-Munroe Falls DECA marketing student club members made it to the top ten at DECA's Career Development Conference held in Columbus, Ohio. Moving on to the international level in the Hospitality Services Team Event were Megan Fragola and Mark Beeson, whose team placed third in the state. Dominic Bruner, Ryan Stone and Grace Baumgardner also finished in the top ten. All students are from Stow-Munroe Falls.

Megan Fragola and Mark Beeson

Athletic Health Care and Fitness senior Mary Gavriloff, Roosevelt, was a national finalist for the 2016 Jack Cramer scholarship. She was the District 4 finalist and represented Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin in the National Athletic Trainers Association scholarship competition.

International Business Academy students, Grace Baumgardner, Megan Fragola and Lauren Turschack, along with Business Management students, Zachery Daisher and David Slusser, all placed first in their respective industries, at the local Believe in Ohio STEM Business Plan Competition. Each student, who all are from Stow-Munroe Falls, was awarded a $500 cash prize and advanced to Regional competition.

Programming and Software Development College Tech Prep students won awards at the Regional Business Professionals of America, BPA, contest in February. Taking second place in Java Programming was Fox Noland, Stow-Munroe Falls. The Web Development team of Vincent Dolciato, Woodridge; Ethan Myers, Hudson; Noah Tranbarger, Stow-Munroe Falls; and David Moeller, Stow-Munroe Falls, also took second. Third place in Web Development went to Nick Stack, Austin MacAdam, Jack MacKay and Fox Noland, all from Stow-Munroe Falls.

CADET students celebrate with Instructor Jeff Bee.

For the third year, CADET, Computer-Aided Design and Engineering Technologies, students competed in the 19th Annual Student Model Home Design Contest. Four of the five teams entered placed in the Top 10 and had their projects displayed at the Great Big Home & Garden Show in Cleveland. Jordyn Kapis, Roosevelt, and Grant Roberts, Stow-Munroe Falls, placed third and Hallie Brett, Chris Lucas and Dylan Berisford, Roosevelt, placed fifth. Others in the Top 10 included Jaret Maxwell, Cuyahoga Falls, and Austin Danner, Sean Carruthers and Mitchel Francis, all of Roosevelt.